More than anything else, it is the problem of suffering which challenges faith and puts it to the test. For by His incarnation the Father's Word assumed, and sanctified through His cross and resurrection, the whole of man, body and soul, and through that totality the whole of nature created by God for man's use. In the materialistic perspective described so far, interpersonal relations are seriously impoverished. This love is an eminently human one since it is directed from one person to another. It is really only before the Lord that man can admit his sin and recognize its full seriousness. Moreover, and by virtue of this fact, the child begins by utilising only syncretic pseudo-concepts before elaborating true logical classes, because the operations formative of classes logical addition and multiplication require a system of definitions whose stability and generality transcend the personal point of view and its subjective attachments definitions by usage, syncretic classifications. This can be and usually is referred to by the same verb form the expective form is the Gospel which, already present in the Revelation of the Old Testament, and indeed written in the heart of every man and woman, has echoed in every conscience "from the beginning", from the time of creation itself, in such a way that, despite the negative consequences of sin, it can also be known in its essential traits by human reason.
