This story is very gentle, and the writing is simple yet powerful. Another thing about the diction is that you can tell when Morning Girl is writing a chapter and when Star Boy Morning Girl writing a chapter. His sister says he 'see[s] everything so upside .

It is a short book only 74 pages so it could easily be read in a week or two depending on the reader. The characters Star Boy and Morning Girl are siblings and they are the foils of each. Thanks for telling us about the problem.

The diction and the words will be painting inside your head while you are reading. The book is very boring and confusing.
